State U. B. S. Met In This City Last Week

The Forty-sixth annual convention of the State Union Benevolent Society of Kentucky, the oldest fraternal organization among colored people in the State, was held in Mt. Sterling on August 3, 4, 5 and 6. The first lodge of this society was organized in 1843. The Grand Lodge was established in 1876 and incorporated in 1878. Subordinate lodges number fifty-six. The lodge of this place is the largest body in the State. The Grand Lodge is worth several thousands of dollars. It operates an insurance department and owns a farm in this county which is valuable for its timber. The farm contains one hundred and five acres.

The meetings held here were among the most successful in the history of the order. The Grand President, Paul W. L. Jones, of Frankfort, is a native of Mt. Sterling and one of the teachers in the Kentucky Normal and Industrial Institute. To him the Grand Lodge is indebted for much of its progress. He has been in office fifteen years. When he assumed the duties of the office as Grand President the business of the lodge was poorly managed. After four years work he made the order one of the strongest fraternal bodies among negroes in Kentucky. Other officers are I. C. Howard, Paris, Grand Vice President; Mrs. Mary L. Brooks, Frankfort, Grand Secretary; and James S. Estill, Frankfort, Grand Treasurer. The next annual convention will be held in Frankfort.

Mt. Sterling Girl Marries Tennessean

This morning at seven o'clock at the home of the bride's aunts, the Misses Wilkerson, on East Main St., Miss Martha Frances Reed, became the bride of Mr. Ira W. Simmons, of Halls, Tennessee. Only the immediate family and a few intimate friends were present to witness the ceremony which was said by the Rev. Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman, the impressive ring service being used. The bride was unusually handsome, wearing a modish traveling suit of navy blue, with hat to match, and carrying an arm bouquet of yellow roses. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Isa Wilkerson Reed, and is one of this city's loveliest young girls. She is a graduate of the City High School and for the past year has taught in the Hall's Tenn. Schools. Mr. Simmons is a successful business man and comes of a prominent and wealthy Southern family. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons left immediately after the wedding for a few days stay in Louisville going to house keeping after August 15, in their own home in Halls.

Pangburn Post Meets

At a meeting of the Pangburn Post, held last Sunday afternoon in the county court room, Hodge K. Morris handed in his resignation as Commander, and after its acceptance by the Executive Committee, Stanley Brown was unanimously elected by the members present to fill the vacant office.

Ratliff H. Lane and Lewis Glover were elected delegates to the State Convention of the American Legion of Kentucky, which will assemble at Louisville, September 3rd and 4th. They were instructed to represent the Pangburn Post at the convention as in favor of the Adjusted Compensation Bill, known as the bonus measure, and to urge the apprehension and prosecution of draft dodgers and all others who wilfully evaded military service during the Great War.

The first and third Sundays of each month are set for regular meeting dates of the Pangburn Post. The Post is called to assemble on those dates in the county court room at 2:30 p. m. All members are requested by Commander Brown to attend the next meeting, which will be held at 2:30 p. m., August 15th.

PAINTFULLY BUT NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

Saturday Keller Caywood was engaged in a conversation with a friend on Bank Street and when he started to cross the street he stepped in front of Perry Swango's moving car and was struck and thrown some distance. The escape from serious injury was a narrow one. The injury was a dislocated shoulder. No blame is attributed as we learn to Mr. Swango.

Rowan County Vote Elects Prewitt

The primary election for Circuit Judge in this district passed off quietly Saturday and the tremendous vote given Judge Prewitt in Rowan county apparently assures him an easy victory. He lost both his home county and Bath, Montgomery giving Winn a majority of 95 votes and Bath a majority of between 147 and 160. Menefee county is reported to have given a majority to Prewitt of 55 votes, while the vote in Rowan county it is said, will give Prewitt a majority of over 500 in that county and a majority in the district of something like 300. The race was hotly contested throughout the district and much feeling was manifested. In the Republican race between Gudgell and Rose, Gudgell was returned the winner by a majority of something like 600 votes. O. W. Barber, of Bath county, appears to be the winner for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district, defeating Judge H. Clay McKee, of this city, and five other candidates. W. J. Fields was unopposed for the Democratic nomination and is almost certain to be returned the winner in November over his Republican rival.

The following candidates for Congress were selected at the primary for the various other districts of the State, several of whom had no opposition:

First District—A. W. Barkley, Democrat; Miller Hughes, Republican.

Second District—D. H. Kincheloe, Democrat; Erskine Barrett, Republican.

Third District—R. Y. Thomas, Democrat; J. H. Gilliam, Republican.

Fourth District—Ben Johnson, Democrat; Marshall Duncan, Republican.

Fifth District—J. H. Richmond, Democrat; Charles F. Ogden, Republican.

Sixth District—A. B. Rouse, Democrat; R. G. Bryson, Republican.

Seventh District—J. C. Cantrill, Democrat; L. L. Bristow, Republican.

Eighth District—Ralph Gilbert, Democrat; King Swope, Republican.

Ninth District—W. J. Fields, Democrat; Omar Barber, Republican.

Tenth District—No Democratic nominee; J. W. Langley, Republican.

Eleventh District—J. E. Sampson, Democrat; J. E. Robison, Republican.

Gov. Cox's Speech Of Acceptance

The political history of America does not record an event comparable with the official notification of Gov. James M. Cox, of Ohio, Democratic nominee for President, which occurred at Dayton Saturday. Other ceremonies have been impressive, attended by huge throngs of admirers, friends and political associates, but never before has an event of this kind so completely gripped the attention of the country, or aroused so much human feeling in the hearts of those present.

Before a crowd of more than 50,000 people at the Montgomery county fair grounds, Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, formally notified the nominee of the San Francisco convention of his selection as leader of the Democracy of America, and the speech of acceptance which followed, treating in clear, straight-out and really understandable terms of the issues of the coming campaign, and the problems now confronting the nation, was more enthusiastically received than any public utterance since the famous speech of President Wilson before Congress in April, 1917, when war was declared. Representatives from every state in the Union were present. Let all lift the great stadium with the feeling that the issue in which they were most vitally interested had been given due attention. Producers from the great agricultural states were pleased with the candidate's declaration that a more effective method of governmental aid for farm industries should be developed by the administration. Labor representatives welcomed the frank and vigorous statement that "Public opinion should determine results in America," as regards disputes between capital and labor; and the hearty approval of all quarters was clearly voiced on the questions of foreign policy, education, transportation, and taxation.

From the moment Governor Cox mounted the speaker's platform to begin his address, until he closed with the solemn declaration that he would "accept the nomination of our party, obedient to the Divine Sovereign of all peoples, and hopeful that by trust in Him the way will be shown for helpful service," he was interrupted almost momentarily by bursts of applause from the stands. Vigorous, robust, and in bounding spirits, the Governor spoke with an earnestness of tone and sincerity which compelled the undivided attention of his audience, and the clarity and soundness of his ideas on the questions close to the hearts of his listeners won tremendous ovations as they were set forth. The day was "Jimmie's" day from sun-up. No one questioned that Dayton was literally captured by her progressive son from the moment it began to stir in the early morning. Bands were playing at the railway stations, as the numerous special trains began to arrive, before seven o'clock. Dayton was truly "Jimmie's" town, for the day at least. But before the native son of the Buckeye state had got well under way with his speech of acceptance, it seemed as though the whole state, or even the whole country, was his for the day. Men and women from all sections of America, representing all the elements of the country, came together at the ceremony.

Mrs. Thompson Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Dora Thompson, aged sixty-six years, died Sunday night at 11 o'clock at her home in this city, after an illness of many months. Mrs. Thompson was the mother of Mrs. Clay Miller, and had made Mt. Sterling her home only a few years, coming here from Covington. During her short residence in this city Mrs. Thompson had endeared herself to countless friends who will be grieved to learn of her death. The remains, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Miller, were taken to Covington, where funeral and burial services will be held in Highland cemetery. Mrs. Thompson was a splendid example of Christian womanhood and in her death a truly consecrated soul has been called to rest with her Master.

Judge Prewitt Thanks Friends

To the Democrats of the Twenty-first Judicial District:

I am grateful, beyond expression for the vote of confidence given me in Saturday's primary and especially do I want to thank those loyal friends, who by their untiring efforts in my behalf, brought me the nomination by so decisive a majority.

Like our great nominee for the Presidency, the Hon. James M. Cox, I believe that "the public official who fails to enforce the law, is an enemy both to the constitution and to the American principle of majority rule," and if false to his oath of office "is more unworthy than the law violator himself."

It shall therefore be my single purpose, while on the bench, to know neither friend nor foe, but to dispense equal justice to every litigant, whether he possesses the power of riches or the weakness of poverty.

All a Circuit Judge can do, however, is to correctly interpret the law and it then devolves, under our democratic form of government, upon the juries, to rightly enforce it.

In order, therefore, that my administration may be a success, I must have and earnestly request the helpful assistance of all good citizens and the sustaining influence of a healthy public sentiment.

Again acknowledging my deep sense of gratitude, I am,

Your obedient servant,
HENRY R. PREWITT.

Shall We Cut Out The 1921 Crop Of Tobacco

At a meeting of 300 tobacco growers, representing 26 counties in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, it was unanimously agreed that no tobacco ought to be raised in the three states in 1921. This was a meeting of volunteers in the movement. A resolution was passed at the meeting requesting all present to return to their respective counties and hold meetings to test the sentiment and wishes of the people on the matter of raising tobacco in 1921. Therefore a meeting of the Montgomery county farmers will be held at the Court House in Mt. Sterling on Saturday, Aug. 14th at 1:30 o'clock p. m. Every grower of tobacco should be present at this meeting and fully express himself on the question of raising no tobacco in 1921. The present outlook is that the farmers will have to take much less for their tobacco this year than they received last year unless they take some steps to resist it. Let every raiser of tobacco be present and freely express himself as to whether we shall raise tobacco or not in 1921.

Mrs. Goff Dies in Clark County

Mrs. Anna Prewitt Goff, 88 years old, died Thursday afternoon at one o'clock at the home of her grandson, Ben Douglas Goff, in Clark county. She was the widow of the late Ben P. Goff, and is survived by one son, S. D. Goff. She was a daughter of the late Nelson Prewitt, and was closely related to the Prewitt, Reid and Coleman families of this county. Funeral services were held Friday at 3 o'clock, followed by interment in the Winchester cemetery.

Aids to Grace & Beauty

If you are one of those people who depend upon clothes for beauty—be careful in choosing your clothes.

I suppose you consider this needless advice, but often when we think we are most careful we are the most careless.

Don't pick a hat for yourself that you saw on Lissy or a dress that you admired on Cecilia. How do you know that you will look well in the same clothes that your friends wear?

I was in a street car recently with a girl friend. Across the aisle sat a very pretty girl in a black taffeta dress and a tight fitting straw turban. The turban was the most becoming hat I had ever seen—for her type, also the dress, but when you imagine my astonishment when I met my friend on the street a few days later and almost exactly the same dress and hat on? She looked like a duck of a model in the middle with a peanut on her head, for be it known, my friend is fat and thirty while the little lady from whom she copied her outfit was thin and was twenty.

If, like my friend, you are inclined to be stout do not wear dresses that give you shortwaisted appearance. Don't wear little tight fitting turbans either.

Long waisted dresses, in dark colors with medium sized hats are the best and for Heaven's sake don't wear short knitted sweaters of brilliant hue. Try and stick to the one color scheme and you will find the results more favorable.

Clothes will do more for you than any cosmetics but like rouge and powder, they must be properly applied. Study yourself in the glass. If you are a little, short person don't wear an over exaggerated coiffure that will make you appear top heavy. A low knot in the back of the head will be far more effective and make you appear years younger.

If you have a high forehead you can comb your hair gracefully over, so that you will not appear scalped and if your forehead is low, comb down later and almost exactly the same dress and hat on? She looked like a duck of a model in the have been to places where Mrs. P—the beautiful society woman puts in an unexpected appearance. Mrs. P—takes the floor the minute she arrives, and holds it for an hour or as long as there is anyone to listen to her she rushes on. It is "me", "this", "I", the other thing and me, myself and I, again. All are bored but Mrs. P—has a lot of money and can do pretty nearly what she pleases. To be invited to her set is considered quite an honor, so she is endured, long after every one has forgotten that she ever possessed such a thing as beauty. Her tongue and egotism blinded them to any physical charm.

"Don't be an 'I' bound!" Incidentally don't be one of those people who ridicules everything. The person who ridicules everything is on the toboggan slide and he will end up by becoming an out and out grouch.

You and I know men and women who never have a pleasant word to say for anyone, or a serious commendation of anything.

Ridicule and sarcasm are often coated with would-be humor, and are sometimes decked out as puns. By and by, however, this bias toward ridicule and sarcasm gets to be a habit, and the coat of humor becomes threadbare.

Don't juggle with ridicule and sarcasm for people look beneath the veneer nowadays.

Dalton

ADDING-CALCULATING MACHINE

Every Retail Merchant needs a 10-Key Dalton

No piece of equipment can be made to mean so much to a retail merchant as a simple, fast figuring machine like the Dalton.

To handle successfully "the detail of retail"—the merchant must have a means at hand to assemble figures quickly. "What are my outstanding accounts, how much have they grown in the past thirty days?"—this is a typical business question.

The smaller the business, the more valuable and necessary are figures. Every possible loss must be avoided. Clerks must have means to verify items of sale, frequent inventories are vital to successful management. Income tax reports must be accurate.

Tens of thousands of merchants today use the Dalton. It requires no special operator. Any clerk can and will use it because of its simplicity—only 10 keys—one for each figure. And it checks invoices and does all things a calculating machine can do because it multiplies as easily as it adds.

Phone for Demonstration

You can have a Dalton brought to your store, have a demonstration, use it yourself, secure information from other merchants who use it, upon request without any obligation. A phone call to this effect will secure our courteous attention.

THE LITTLE INDIAN CANOE

By Florence Fairman Stookey

"Oh, Uncle Henry," cried a small boy, "where did you get that little boat? Isn't it a fine one?"

"That came from up North, Donald," said Uncle Henry. "It's an Indian canoe and I saw the Indian who made it."

"Oh, Uncle Henry, did you really?"

"Yes, indeed," replied his uncle "and it took a good deal of skill to make it. Every Indian boy is ambitious to learn how to make a good canoe. How would you like to own this one, Donald?"

"Own it? I own that canoe?" gasped Donald, pleased and surprised at so generous an offer.

"Certainly. That very canoe. Why not?"

"Oh, oh, Uncle—"
"If you will cut the grass in my yard, and do it well, I'll pay you by giving you the canoe."

"Where's your lawn-mower?" asked Donald, eagerly, "I'll begin this minute."

"It's in the tool house," answered his uncle.

So Donald ran off to the tool house and soon returned with the lawn-mower. For over an hour he pushed it up and down the yard; then he ran into the house and called "Uncle Henry, please bring me the canoe. I'm all through."

"Oh, are you?" asked his uncle in great surprise, "there's a patch over there by the garden—and another by the kitchen walk that don't look as though they had been touched since last week. Of course, if you'd rather not finish your job, I'll pay you fifteen cents for what you've done. But that little canoe—you see it's made of real birch-bark and by a genuine Indian—and well made, too—sewed and bound firmly and neatly. It wouldn't be right for me to give you that unless you had done the whole job, Donald, and done it well. I'm sorry, but I can't do it."

Back to the yard went Donald. "I'll try it again," he said.

For half an hour longer he cut and trimmed, till the lawn was as smooth as a green rug.

Then he brought Uncle Henry out to inspect the job. "All right, my boy," said Uncle Henry. "Here is your canoe."

You can't cheer a downcast citizen greatly by tell him your own troubles because you think they are worse than his.

WORK REMEDY FOR WORLDLY ILLS

J. P. Morgan, then past seventy, was asked by the son of an eminent father why he didn't retire. "When did your father retire?" asked Mr. Morgan, without looking up from his crowded desk. "In 1903." "When did he die?" "Oh, at the end of 1904." "Huh!" snapped Mr. Morgan, "if he had kept on working he would have been alive still."

Work is man's best medicine; it is God's medicine for man. Work wins.

Edison describes genius as 99 per cent perspiration and only one per cent inspiration.

Many of us look upon work as a curse. It is, instead, our supreme blessing.

Even the lowest type of criminals dread nothing more than perpetual idleness during imprisonment, and piteously beg to be given something to do.

One of the Vanderbilts, who had given himself over to luxury and ease, once declared that he was sick of life.

It's curious, isn't it, how many of us who toil and sweat yearn for the day when we can give up work and

IN YE OLDEN TIME

Hoop skirts were worn by those who first asked the druggist for, and insisted on having, the genuine Golden Medical Discovery put up by Dr. Pierce over fifty years ago. Dress has changed very much since then! But Dr. Pierce's medicines contain the same dependable ingredients. They are standard today just as they were fifty years ago.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach and blood cannot be surpassed by any remedy today.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women has never been equalled for the distressing complaints incident to womanhood. What others say:

COVINGTON, KY.—"I have taken five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and am proud of my good health. Every winter I would have three or four spells of La Grippe and I used to get such weak spells, but I am stronger now than I ever was in my life."—MRS. IDA HILES, 1532 Banklick Street.

give ourselves up to idleness? Yet there never was in the world a truly happy idler.

Happiness comes from effort rather than from reward.

"It's not your position but your disposition towards your position which counts," a wise old lady is fond of impressing upon her children.

Work done in the right spirit never harms anyone.

Forget yourself in your work and you will forget that you're working. Must Not Loaf

One of the world's chief troubles today is that millions of wage earners have adopted a wrong attitude towards work. Scarcity and high prices are mainly due to half-hearted, indifferent inadequate work.

Underproduction never can bring prosperity to any people. Labor unions which discourage whole-hearted, full-volume work are doomed for this doctrine is contrary to all the laws of both earth and heaven. Nothing more mischievous, nothing more harmful, was ever preached.

The workman who holds himself in, who purposely loafs on the job, who schemes to do less than he is capable of doing, stunts his physical, his moral, his spiritual development. He is a cheat. His life is a continuous lie, a continuous pretense, for he makes believe that he is busy when in reality he is only dissembling. He hurts himself more than he hurts anyone else, altho in truth he hurts all when he contrives to put into the world less than he is perfectly capable of putting into it. If everyone loafed on the job, the human race would starve.

If all acted on the same principle as the loafing, shirking workmen, there would be no progress in the world, but, instead, every country would become worse than present-day Russia.

Civilization is nothing but the fruit of work.

Work builds. Work develops. Idleness brings decay.

Plants Work To Live

Even plants have to work in order to live. When their myriads of roots, some of them slender as a hair, cease to busy themselves transforming elements in soil into food for the tree of the shrub, or the flower, then that tree, or that shrub, or that flower, dies.

Animals, too, were obtained to put forth effort in order to maintain existence. And sooner or later those species of animals which fail, to contribute something to the world are driven from the face of the earth and exterminated.

So with man. In civilized lands it is now recognized that those who render no useful service to the world are entitled to neither respect nor consideration, and gradually laws are being passed to compel wealthy idlers to put their possessions at the service of those who will make beneficial use of them—as witness what is happening to absentee and purely ornamental landlords in the United Kingdom and Ireland.

The world war brought home to mankind that if a man will not work he is not entitled to eat. "Fight or work" was salutary legislation. It brought us back to first principles. It uncovered the bedrock of human existence, a bedrock that had become covered and obscured by centuries of weedy growths.

There had sprung up too much worship of wealth and too little worship of work, too much worship of splendor and too little worship of sweat, too much worship of each and too little worship of effort.

America has been less guilty than Europe of despising work and coveting ignoble, luxurious ease.

The real aristocrats of America have been not the silly, disintegrating "Four Hundred," but the men and women of outstanding achievement.

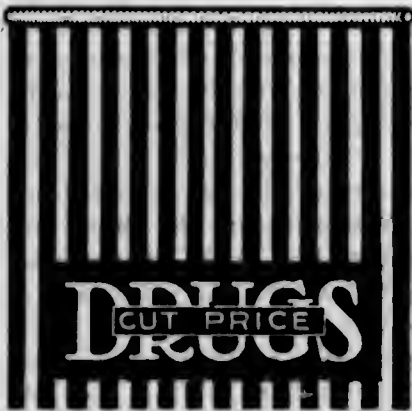

Our Hills and Morgans and Schwabs and Garys and Vails and McCormicks and Swifts and Wilsons and Pattersons and Farrells and Edisons and Vanderlips and Keiths and Fords and Harrimans have not been idlers, but have been workers, tireless, determined, courageous workers, ready to devote their every ounce of strength to their tasks.

Is there not grave danger today that labor leaders are falling into the pitfall which these business leaders avoided?

Put In Full Strength

Have not numbers of labor leaders been exhorting their followers not to do every stroke of work within their power, but to scheme and agitate for the cutting down of both hours of work and volume of work? No workman need hope to attain success by putting into the world less than he is able to put into it.

He cannot even hope to preserve his self-respect if he systematically refuses to exert his abilities and capabilities to the utmost.

It is hard enough to get on in the world by doing one's best.

It is impossible to achieve by doing less than one's best.

It matters not whether one's job be to stoke a furnace, pound a typewriter, handle tools, tend looms, dig coal, run an engine, answer correspondence, teach children, sweep the streets, preach, plow, sell goods or edit a publication, the work can be done in a way that ennobles character or in a way that degrades it. Not the nature of the work, but the nature of the spirit in which the work is done, counts.

No man or woman who is doing superior work ever feels superior to that work.

It is he who is doing work in a way that is not worth doing who feels that the work is not worth doing.

Said Cervantes: "Everyone is owner of his own works."

And were Carlyle alive today he could not write a truer or more timely word than this. "Work is the grand cure for all the maladies and miseries that ever beset mankind—honest work which you intend getting done."

The world needs today more than anything else just one thing—work. Yet the world does not need our work one whit more than we need the work.

Without work we can attain neither honor nor happiness, neither wealth nor self-respect.

"Genuine work alone, what thou workest faithfully, that is eternal, as the Almighty Founder and World Builder himself."

THE RECENT PRIMARY

On the face of the returns Judge H. K. Prentiss has been nominated for Circuit Judge in this district. Hon. John G. Winn carried Montgomery and Bath counties, lost Menifee by a small margin, and his defeat has been accomplished by Kovan county, where, it is said, no election was held in one precinct, where election officers were changed before the election in three other precincts, and where Mr. Winn was denied representation at the polls either by election officers or challengers or inspectors.

Such tactics do not meet with our approval and we know that they will not rebound to the interests of the Democratic party. The Democrats of this judicial district have long suffered from unfair election tactics in Kovan county but if we mistake not the temper of the people continued practices of this kind will end disastrously to the party.

However, we are Democrats of the old school, and ALL candidates of the Democratic party will receive the support of the Advocate in November.

DO OUR TOBACCO GROWERS FAVOR A CUT-OUT?

It is officially announced in this issue that there will be a public meeting of tobacco growers held at the Court House in this city for the purpose of deciding whether or not the growers of Montgomery county will approve the action of representatives favoring a cut-out of the crop in 1921. This is a subject of much concern and demands serious thought. We urge every tobacco grower in the county to attend the meeting and be prepared to vote for or against the resolution.

ROSEN RYE

The Mt. Sterling Commission and Storage Company, has purchased a car of the Rosen seed rye. The farmer who sows the best rye should use Mr. Greenwald's as once and have their order booked. Here are some facts about this rye. Years ago a handful of this rye was brought from Russia and given to Prof. Savage, of Michigan, who experimented with it, finally selecting a single plant showing remarkable characteristics. The grain from this plant was saved and planted next season, when the process was repeated until sufficient had been obtained to experiment with a few expert farmers in different localities. At the State Experimental Farm the average yield was over 41 bushels per acre, the quality of the grain being exceptionally high.

It is claimed for Rosen Rye that on account of the manner in which it has been handled it is the purest pedigree seed in existence, particular pains being taken to prevent mixing with other grain. For the past four years the yield of this Rye was fine, averaging from 25 to 45 bushels, the quality being equal to or superior to the best common Rye even in the poor Rye years. The latest yields have been as high as 45 bushels to the acre, with an average of 35 bushels, while the common variety has averaged about 21 bushels.

The opinion is freely expressed by those who have tried Rosen Rye that it pays better to plant this seed, even if the price is twice as high as common variety, both on account of the excess yield and the better quality of the crop.

ROSEN RYE produces a strong, vigorous straw, and stools to a remarkable degree. The grain is large (plump, heavy and of a beautiful color), ordinarily has four full rows of grain on over 90 per cent. of its heads. Seldom winter kills and is especially good on lighter soils. It usually commands a premium in the market over other varieties. On account of its vigorous standing property less seed is required, the practice being three or four pecks per acre.

OPENS DANCING CLASS

Miss Maybelle Swope, of Lexington opened her new dancing class at the Tubb Theatre Tuesday morning. Miss Swope is a very charming young lady to meet and has only very lately completed studies in dancing in Chicago. The success of her new class here seems to be assured. The second meet of the class will be again at the Tubb Friday morning.

Boy Scouts Having Great Time in England

The Boy Scouts of America delegation to the International Jamboree contests in London, of which Thomas G. Hoffman, of this city, is the delegate from the local Council, had a perfect trip across the Atlantic Ocean. There were no storms, no rough seas and only a few hours of rain. The U. S. Army Transport "Pocomtuck," on which they were passengers through the courtesy of the War Department, made a record trip and arrived at Southampton a day ahead of schedule. Sleeping in soldiers' bunks below decks, serving their own meals and taking care of their own quarters were duties not different enough from the routine of a scout camp to cause any serious discomfort, and every one of the 301 Scouts was fit for immediate service as the Southampton tender "Prince of Wales" approached the pier with the Denver Boy Scout Band playing "God Save the King."

The delegation went immediately to London by a special train and "hooked down" at the Y. M. C. A. Training College, Hildway Park N. I. In the morning the discovery was made that the park is closely associated with American history. It was here under an ancient but flourishing mulberry tree, that the Declaration of Independence and the Monroe Doctrine were first read in England. The park was once the hunting lodge of King Henry VIII and a favorite visiting place of Queen Elizabeth.

The daily program of the delegation is strenuous. It begins with rehearsal at 6:45, followed by a breakfast served by the Scouts themselves. Food is less plentiful in England than at home, but the Scouts have accommodated themselves to the conditions. Diet and health are watched carefully by a staff of physicians. During the forenoon the various groups practice their parts for the Jamboree. The band will compete for the championship of the world. Other Scouts will take part in athletic events and boxing contests. Scoutcraft will have the most prominent place on the program, of course. One of the surprises that the American delegation is preparing to hand to their rivals is a group of one hundred, all making fire by friction at the same time by the old Indian bow-drill method.

Pageantry illustrating the genesis of development of scouting is being rehearsed daily. The American delegation has two outstanding experts in this art. As scouting in America began with the red men, forty Scouts will be arrayed in feather head-dress and other Indian paraphernalia and thus appear on several occasions. Some cowboy stunts will be "pulled off" also. Exhibitions of this character appeal strongly to the English public. Newspaper reporters and camera men have visited the delegation daily to see the practice.

Daily programs of sight-seeing have been arranged. The Scouts visited the great national war exhibition at Crystal Palace on the first day of their visit on British soil. On the next day, Sunday, the Protestants attended divine services at St. Paul's Cathedral and the Catholics at Westminster Cathedral. A tour of the city in motor-lorries was one day's feature. One rainy afternoon was spent at the British Museum. A party of officials was entertained for an afternoon in the House of Lords by the Earl of Meith; while there they were presented to the Archbishop of Canterbury, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Lord Charnwood, author of the book on Abraham Lincoln dramatized by Drinkwater.

The Anglo-American Society invited the delegation to participate in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the Abraham Lincoln Memorial in Westminster and to visit the ancestral home of the Washington family. Lady March invited all the Scouts and leaders to tea in Warwick Castle. On the same day a visit was made to Stratford-on-Avon, the home of Shakespeare. The Zoological Gardens and Madame Tassand's Waxworks are other interesting places visited.

Perhaps the greatest testimonial to the standing of the Boy Scouts of America among the national Scout organizations of the world is the fact that the delegation has been given the place of honor in the grand finale of the Jamboree to take place on the evening of August 7. When the English leaders reviewed the pageant of Scouting that the American delegation was prepared to present, they withdrew their previous arrangements and requested that the American production be substituted. It will be an elaborate affair, picturing the history of Scouting in the United States.

The delegation left on the 8th, for a ten days or two weeks' trip through the principal cities and battle fields of France and Belgium, sailing for home on, or about, the 18th. Arrangements are being made in New York for a grand display of the triumphant Jamboree Scouts, at the Polo Grounds in the form of a gigantic demonstration of Scouting. Mr. H. G. Hoffman will go to New York to meet his son on his return.

GOVERNOR COX'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

monies and cheered and yelled for "Jimmie" as if he was a neighbor of all.

The most intense demonstration occurred when the Governor approached the subject of the League of Nations.

Standing, it seemed, it bit more squarely upon both feet, setting his jaw with added firmness and speaking with a decided note of aggressiveness, the Democratic candidate spoke of the league as "the supreme issue of the century," and bitterly assailed the Republican party for having blocked the entry of America into "this most practical and humane movement."

The keynote of the Democratic party, as sounded by Gov. Cox, is progressiveness. "Progressive democracy pitted against Republican reaction" is the way he summed up the campaign in brief, and the statement brought a deafening roar of applause from the masses in the crowded stands.

Following the demonstration the Governor spoke of the campaign expenses of the two parties, and won a great ovation when he said:

"There will be no attempt in this campaign to compete by dollars with our opposition. So many people have been in the money-gathering business for the reactionary cause that the millions already in hand are more or less a matter of general information. All that we ask is that both parties deal in the utmost good faith with the electorate and tell the plain truth as to the amounts received, the contributors, and the items of disbursements. The public judgment in elections should be rendered after the fullest hearing possible."

The acceptance speech closed with a reference to the plans of the campaign in which Gov. Cox stated that "cunning devices backed by unlimited prodigious expenditures will be used to confuse and to lure. But I have an abiding faith that the pitfalls will be avoided and the right road chosen. The leaders opposed to Democracy promise to put the country 'back to normal.' This can only mean the so-called normal of former reactionary administrations, the outstanding feature of which was a pittance for farm produce and a small wage for a long day of labor. My vision does not turn backward to the 'normal' desired by the senatorial oligarchy, but to a future in which all shall have a normal opportunity to cultivate a higher measure amidst better environment than that of the past. Our view is toward the sunrise of tomorrow with its progress and its eternal promise of better things."

The ceremonies closed with a benediction by the Rev. Father Martin Neville, of the Holy Angels Catholic church of Dayton. Governor Cox returned to Trailsend to meet thousands of friends who were waiting to congratulate him upon his speech, which, they say, will without doubt inspire the party workers to the great and concerted effort demanded by the occasion to culminate in the defeat of the reactionary program of Senator Harding.

For Distribution

We have for distribution a few copies of the Blue Grass Fair catalogues. They indicate one of if not the very best fairs that that association has ever held. Live stock classes, open to the world, consists of three and five guinea saddle horses, harness horses, roadsters, heavy harness horses, Shetland ponies, mules, jacks and jennets, beef and dairy cattle, swine and sheep. The speed department will be very attractive this year including very fast trotters, while four or more running races will be given each day. The woman's department has been re-classified so as to provide for every description of woman's work. Amusements will be very attractive, the principle being the world's famous Nat Reis Shows. Three giant passenger carrying aeroplanes will be speeding through the air daily and those who would experience the thrill can have an opportunity at a reasonable price. All trains beginning the 29th will sell return tickets at excursion rates. Fair opens daily at 10:30, a. m., beginning Aug. 30th. Many people attended the Montgomery County Fair from Lexington and Fayette county may be sure we will return the compliment.

National Florence Crittenton Mission

Mrs. C. M. B. Follett, Educational Secretary of the National Crittenton Mission, talked to the various church of the city Sunday, asking alms in order to assist in the rescue of fallen women. It was in 1883 that Charles N. Crittenton, a wealthy business man of New York City, addressing two young girls of the street, and quoted words of Holy Writ, "Go and Sin No More," which was answered by the words of the unfortunates, "Where shall we go?" The man of affairs could not answer this question but it put him to thinking and planning, and from this query and this thoughtful question the first home was established followed by others until today 5,000 helpless unfortunates are enred for yearly and the answer to that question "where shall we go" is now among the possibles. This National and International organization constitutes a shelter for out-casts and for the past twenty-six years has been doing a wonderful work and it is Mrs. Follett's business with that of others to inform a generous public of this work begun and to assist in the raising of a sufficient amount that none may go away homeless to drift in a downward current, the ocean of which is death. Sixty-four homes are now located in thirty-seven states and it is the society's object to assist in the location of a home for each state in the union. Hence the mission of this good woman, Mrs. Follett.

Put some men in the gold country and they'll sell out for a song; and what's more, they'd be too lazy to help sing it.

Another old joke that could be discarded is finding a long hair on a man's coat.

Some men put too much faith in the theory that it is easier to owe than to pay.

Talk to any man long enough, and he will narrate some instance when the doctor gave him up.

Well And Happy Woman, She Says

Was All Run Down and Worn Out When She Began Taking Tanlac.

"I have taken only two bottles of Tanlac, but it is just wonderful how it has built me up," said Mrs. Bertha Grimes of 1520 Portland Ave., Louisville, Ky., while recently telling a Tanlac representative of her recovery after taking the medicine.

"I was in a miserable, run-down condition," Mrs. Grimes continued, "and I had been that way for six months before I started taking Tanlac. I was so weak I could not do my housework and I honestly believe my little six-year-old boy was stronger than I was. My appetite was poor and what I ate seemed to do more harm than good. Nearly all the time I had a pain in my side and if I started to even sweep the floor I would give completely out. I was troubled a great deal with constipation and had to be taking laxatives every few days. I hardly knew what it was to get a good night's sleep and I got up feeling worn-out every morning."

"A friend of my husband's told him about Tanlac and one night he brought me some home. And now I am happy to say that things are entirely different and life is again worth living. My appetite is just fine and although I eat three good meals every day I still feel hungry. Everything I eat agrees with me and is fast giving me back my lost strength and energy. The pain in my side has disappeared and I am no longer troubled with constipation. For the first time in six months I know what it is to get a good night's rest and sleep and I get up of mornings feeling so strong that it is no trouble for me to do my house-work. It is just wonderful what a great change has come over me and Tanlac deserves credit for it all."

Tanlac is sold in Mt. Sterling by Laud & Priest.

A man has no more show in an argument with his wife and daughter against him, than a deaf man has at a telephone.

"I Lost My Best Customers Thru Rats," Writes J. Adams.

"Used to have the busiest Restaurant in town until news spread that the kitchen was infested with rats; lost a lot of my best customers until I tried RAT-SNAP. Haven't a pest in the place now. Restaurants should use RAT-SNAP." Three sizes, 35c, 65c $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Chenault & Orear.

A man who is just a little sick is apt to have trouble convincing his friends it isn't laziness.

Torpid Liver

Black-Draught "has no equal for headache, sour stomach, torpid liver and feverish colds." declares Mrs. Annie Whitmore, of Gate City, Va. "It is easy to take and does not gripe, as a lot of medicines do," she adds. "It is good to take in a hot tea for colds, or can be taken in a dry powder. I can't say enough for Black-Draught and the sickness it has saved us."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

has been found a valuable liver medicine, in thousands of homes. "I do not use any other liver medicine," says Mrs. Mary O. Brown, of Europa, Miss. "It is splendid for sour stomach, a bad taste in the mouth or torpid liver. I keep it all the time, use it with the children and feel it has saved us many dollars in doctor bills and many days in bed."

Insist on the genuine—Thedford's.

Educational Tooth Talk—6

THE HABIT OF A CLEAN MOUTH

Many a child is backward in school or disobedient. This condition has often been scientifically traced to decaying teeth. After the teeth had been corrected the child at once improved and many times has outstripped his classmates. Is it not a serious thing to neglect your child's teeth at this formative period of his life? The difference between care and neglect may measure the difference between a brilliant pupil and a dullard, between a success and a failure in after life. Teach your child the "habit of a clean mouth."

Dr. H. M. Wright, Traders Bank Building.

"COX, THE UNBEATABLE"

To the Editor of the Courier-Journal:

Write it Cox, the Unbeatable!

He is a journalist and that means a good deal. The lawyer is a controversialist, a logician, a master of doctrines, theories, equities. The doctor is a healer, and more or less a specialist. The journalist is an all-around man of affairs.

That is what we require in a President of the United States.

It will not be denied that Woodrow Wilson is a highly qualified man. The record of his administration will read well in history. If I wished to be critical I should say that he is too much the doctrine, too much the humanitarian, too much the phrase-maker.

Cox is not of this kind. He is a man among men. He has shown himself ever a practical man, a man of sense and judgment—who as the saying puts it, "has studied the one papers" and ascertained the difference betwixt hawk and buzzard. In a word, he does things.

We want, we need, that sort of man in the White House.

Now comes the chance for the Democrats of Kentucky to get together, to wipe out the old scores and, with a long pull, a strong pull and pull all together to line up once more on the Resolution of '98 and fifty-four-forty-or-fight.

Write it Cox, the Unbeatable. Better get aboard the Band Wagon, boys!—Henry Watterson.

These Tires Are a Revelation

The Brunswick is frankly a combination of the best in tire building.

There is one tread that's supreme beyond question. And that is now on Brunswicks.

There is one side-wall construction, which, by every test, holds the summit place for endurance. And that one was adopted for Brunswicks.

Fabrics differ — up to 30 per cent — in their strength tests. On Brunswicks the maximum long-fiber is the standard.

There are certain additions, each one expensive, which add vastly to tire mileage. The Brunswick embodies all these extras.

There are no patents, no secret formulas to prevent any maker from building the best. It is simply, a question of knowledge and skill — cost plus care.

Brunswick standards are known the world over. The very name certifies an extraordinary tire. Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires.

Buy ONE Brunswick. It will prove that a better tire cannot be bought, regardless of price.

COLLAR AND SADDLE GALLS CAN BE AVOIDED

At this time of year troublesome conditions arise for horses and mules in skin wounds and collar or saddle galls caused by the harness or saddle that does not set well, from uneven pressure, from pulling of a short chain, from uneven places on inside of harness or saddle, from sweating or the accumulation of sebaceous material under the collar, from not properly cleaning the animal before and after hitching and from long hard work for a horse before it is hardened. All of these causes can be eliminated and the evils avoided.

If there is any tendency for the animal to have sore shoulders it would be well to bathe the parts occasionally with camphor. In case sores do develop they should have thorough and careful treatment. Abrasions of the skin should be bathed with water and then borie acid dusting powder, applied or a saturated solution of copper sulphate gently applied. The wound as a rule will heal very quickly if the animal is not used and if is necessary to work the horse the affected area should be protected but the surrounding structures should not be abused.

Sometimes collar galls develop into a mass of new formed tissue with raw surface that does not heal rapidly. This tumor will as a rule continue to develop unless the irritation is completely removed. If the horse is given complete rest the tumor will sometimes disappear, but will frequently return. Where it becomes large and extensive it should be cut out and treated as an open wound. Summer sores are a progressive form of wound infection. It is difficult to treat and often the animal must be destroyed.

All of us would use the veto a good deal if we had one in good working order.

RETURNING FROM SPRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sheridan, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Thorn, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hawes, Mrs. Rutherford, Edward Devoe and Herbert Thorn, after spending a week at, Olympian Springs, motored through here Monday returning to their homes in New Albany, Ind. They were a happy company, very much pleased and benefitted by their visit to the springs and were enjoying their trip through the Blue Grass section in every way except our roads. They wondered why a section so rich in agriculture did not have better roads. The greater part of the visitors are for Cox for President and believe he is a winner.
